Fuel Policy (for tariffs with fuel set between £0.82 & £0.88 per litre)

October 2008 - updated January 2016

Volatile World Oil prices mean we either have to review & update tariffs every month or implement a mechanism that allows for this movement & adjusts our charges accordingly. Diesel represents around a third of our cost; even a small change has a significant effect.

For transparency & simplicity, we've designed a Fuel Mechanism where the average cost of diesel in Month One sets the surcharge/discount for Month Two.

For clarity, we use the consignment delivery date, not the collection date.

Most of our tariffs are based with diesel around 80 pence/litre (before vat) The table below sets out how we will adjust for movement outside of a 6 pence/litre neutral band. We use our own purchases for bunkered & card diesel to calculate the monthly average.

We publish this information each month on the 'Fuel Policy' area of our website:
